COST OF OUR STATE GOVERNMENT.

It costs the sum of $222,625 to run our State Government for a year, out-ide of the $24,000 for District Judges salaries. Of this sum, $78 000 is paid to twenty State officers and their deputies and $27,-500 for the Legislature, or $55,000 every two years for the Legislature. On the basis of 40,000 inhabitants, this gives a cost to each inhabitant of about $5 56 per capita, and an average salary for the twenty State efficers of $218 per day, for doing the work that five good active men could do, and be well paid for, at $10 each per day, or a cost of $50 per day, or a clean saving to the State each day of $168, or a clean net saving per year of $60,450

As the law now stands, there is a State tax of 90 cents on every hundred dollars their native land. The boat searches value of property in the State, collected to for a time in vain, for the big ship has pay the above enormous expenses, which covered all lights and is lying like a accounts largely for the tax payers evading ing morning to renew the havoc. Perthe payment of taxes as much as possible, haps if the ship remained thus the little even to the extent of swearing falsely to the | boat would never find her; but "Goliath" Assessors as to the property they own, which has contributed so largely to the assessable property of the State being watch. shown by the asse-sment rolls at about onehalf what it really is.

If the State would regulate itself all around by forcing the assessment of property at its legitimate figure, and reduce extaxation could be saved to the tax payers, and the savings would go largely to pay for the necessaries of life and times would be easier with our working class. -- Austin Alvocate.

Our Gold Coming Back.

The gold which left Liverpool on the Majestic Wednesday is understood to be sbout $3,230,000. It is understood that the Lahn, which sailed from Southhampton yesterday will bring enough to make the total $5,000,000. And yet we are told that the free comage of silver will drive the 4,500,000, ounces and the coining of $2.-000,000 of silver per month does not drive any out, it seems hard to conceive that free coinage will. This is a point, however, which the goldbugs of late have ceased to harp much on.

An Interesting Aerial Experiment.

M. Pennington, President of the Mount Carmell (Ill.) Aeronautic Navigation Company, in an interview at Chicago Tuesday. said that the first of their airships will be completed within three weeks when a trisl trip will occur. The ship will start from Mount Carmel and attempt to go to St. Louis. From there it will sail up to Chicago and then to New York. Half a dozen newspaper representatives will be taken on the trip.

New York has made another move to consolidate with her suburbs. The proposed tunnel under the East river has been authorized by the Board of Aldermes. In due time the city will be connected with New Jersey and Long Island by both bridge and tunnel and, at its present rate of growth will soon become the greatest | Women who find it difficult to spare centre of population in the world.

A TORPEDO ATTACK AT NIGHT.

A Vivid Picture of "David" and "Goliath" in Modern Naval Warfare

The opportunity comes—a dark night and tempestuous. The clouds have covered the stars like a pall, and there is a howling wind which drowns all other sounds. The pigmy vessel makes ready and puts to sea. It rushes along as swift as the wind and as silent as a calm. Big waves sometimes sweep over it from end to end as it plunges through the darkness, but they are not heeded. Small as it is, it is stanchly built and can stand the strain of storm as well as its adversary. All men save one are snugly shut inside, tending the flying engine and preparing the missile of destruction. This is a strange bolt, shaped like a cigar, over ten feet in length, and the crew place it in the bow tube. The man on deck stands behind a little iron tower which shields him from the shock of the waves, and there he steers the boat.

In the darkness they seek their adversary determinedly, and with deadly purpose, since they are the protectors of sleeping monster upon the waves, awaitbecomes uneasy: he fears "David" will make an attack, so he has determined to

A dazzling cone of white light suddenly starts from a point in the darkness and broadens upon the water. Slowly it sweeps about over the sea in circling arcs. All at once the little boat is bathed in a brilliant, blinding glare. The monpenses as any man would in his private ster's eye finds it! But in finding the business, one half of the present rate of enemy the battleship has disclosed itself, and the dauntless little adversary steams straight forward at utmost speed. Streaks of flame are now shooting from under the white light, while the rattling reports of rifles and machine guns rise sharply above the wind's roar. Shot and small shell are falling about like hail upon the water, but the monster cannot keep the range of the onrushing boat, and the missiles fly wide of the mark.

Suddenly the great ship looms uptall, long, shadowy, overpowering. It is not far off-almost near enough to be Hubert Graham, a yard man of Richattacked. Yet a little closer, and the mond, who worked for the Pennsylvania intrepid pigmy, still unharmed, slows and steadies, with that ominous black tube pointing toward the monster's blazgold out of the country. If the buying of ing side. Shots are falling upon the boat, and the man who was steering has taken refuge in his iron tower; but inside there is a wheel, and he can steer as well as before, for around him on a level with his eyes are little slits through which he can see. Now seconds are precious if the brave little craft is to escape destruction. The moment has come! A lever is pulled, and from that black tube comes a short, hoarse roar. At once the little boat begins to turn, ready to escape with the speed of the wind.

But before the boat can turn a dull heavy shock has jarred the sea. A gigantic column of white water rushes upward toward the black clouds. In it the tall masts of the monster ship seem to sway about and clash together. The banging of the guns is sharply succeeded by cries of human terror.

The mass of water falls back into the sea with a roaring crash and scatters over the waves in great wisps of glistening foam. The wind, sweeping on again, forms new waves over the disturbed water. The monster ship has disappeared —the Goliath of the deep is conquered by his pigmy antagonist.—John M. Elli-cott in St. Nicholas.

No Fitting Necessary.

the time and strength at the dressmaker's for the fitting and trying on of two or three gowns a season comment sometimes upon the trouble their more fashionable sisters must take who own dresses by scores. In point of fact the latter have an easier time getting twenty than the former three.

Most wealthy and dressy women have at their dressmaker's a gown form of themselves, which is a plaster of paris cast taken from life. Every detail of the corseted and bodiced figure to the waist line is accurately reproduced, and this half body is then mounted upon a skirt form of the same height as the customer.

Madame or mademoiselle, as the case may be, then spends a single morning with her dressmaker choosing fabrics studying effects, indicating occasions for which gowns will be needed and the like to accomplish the season's wardrobe. The costumes are made up and fitted to her counterfeit presentment and when finished sent home, often not needing the alteration of a single hook or loop.—New York Times.

Tapioca.

The manioc or cassava is a native of South America, but it has been successfully introduced for cultivation into Africa and other tropical countries. is a bushy shrub, six to ten feet high, with large leaves near the ends of the branches. They contain a milky juice rich in starch, but also rich in hydrocyanic acid, which makes the juice-in

The acid is driven out by heat and the remainder of the juice is extracted by boiling. The grated root makes what is known in the tropics as cassava or cassava bread, and is used for food. The starch, extracted, is exported as Brazilian arrowroot, and tapioca is made from it by a heating process which bursts the starch granules and causes some chemical changes.—Good Housekeeping.

An Old Slave's Romance. A colored woman, bent nearly double with eighty years and a heavy bundle, was seen to board the Cincinnati Mail line packet yesterday afternoon. Approaching the clerk of the boat she slowly untied a knot in the corner of her red bandana handkerchief and produced enough cash to purchase a deck ticket for Cincinnati. The wrinkled and feeble old negress is the heroine of a romance. In ante-bellum days she was a slave, and was owned by a planter near Asheville, A vine clad cottage stands upon the green;
N. C. At an early age she was married Full many years within this humble nook was owned by a planter near Asheville, to a slave of the same master. By him she had several children. Over half a century ago her husband was taken from her and her children, and was sold to another planter. The woman continued to work on the North Carolina plantation, and in a short time was again married. Her whole family was then sold to a Virginia man.

When the emancipation proclamation was promulgated the family took advantage of their freedom and journeyed northward, finally taking up their home in Louisville. The husband died after the close of the war, and the children one by one left their mother to seek their fortunes elsewhere. The mother toiled and labored to make a livelihood. She heard nothing of her first husband until about a month ago, when one of her sons found that the old man was living in Newport, Ky. The old negress journeyed thither and found the husband of her youth. He had also been married the second time, and had several children by the second wife. The latter was dead, however, and the reunited couple decided to again live together. The woman returned to Louisville, disposed of her effects, and yesterday afternoon completed the romance of fifty years by returning to her husband.—Louisville Post.

The Dangers of Railroading.

"There is no branch of railroading that is safe," is a saying among men who make their living on the iron rails, and a man's long service and skillful knowledge do not throw absolute safeguards about him. Poor Martin Ryan, who had the science of railroading down to the finest notch, was killed by his own train after eighteen years of service. company twenty-five years, was struck by a pony engine a few days ago. Samuel Morgan's body was brought here last night. Morgan was an engineer on the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis for thirty years. Advancing age incapacitated him from running an engine, and he was given charge of a water station at Marshfield, near Scottsburg. Night before last he was run down by a freight train and killed. "Did you notice that six out of ten railroad men die violent deaths if they continue in the business?" said a conductor last evening. "If they don't it's because they leave the railroad service."-Indianapolis News.

Tokens of Estcem for the Pope.

The sisters of Notre Dame convent, at Cincinnati, are sending to Rome for presentation to the pope a white vellum manuscript of fifty pages, elaborately illuminated and bound in covers, with designs by one of the nuns. The pages are painted by seven sisters chosen for the purpose from the thirty-seven houses of the order in the United States. There are three addresses--one to Leo XIII. one to Cardinal Gibbons and a third to Archbishop Elder, a portrait accompanying each dedication. There is a sketch of the American branch of the order since its foundation in 1840, a poem by a nun, with illustrations; views of the mother house at Namur, Belgium, and of the Ohio house, bits of landscape and decorative fancies.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Fourteen Cents Capital.

The possession of how much money does it require to save a man from the charge of being a pauper? Lately a ship load of 525 Italians was landed at New York city, and the cash capital they brought with them averaged just fourteen cents each. A man in a strange land and unacquainted with the language of the country, who possesses fourteen cents, may not be a pauper, but, unless he is willing to work and hustles to secure employment, he is likely to become one very shortly after his arrival.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Unlucky Number Nineteen.

A peculiar coincidence connected with the last primary for the legislature has just come to light. It will be remembered that Mr. Cobb was defeated by nineteen votes. Since then it has been remembered that his father was defeated by nineteen votes and his grandfather by the same number. We do not know whether Mr. Cobb is twice 19 years old, but to complete the coincidence he ought to be.—Athens (Ga.) Banner.

A Hero of a Practical Joke.

A young man of about 25 is just now the hero of a select circle of friends in the southern section of the city, and in view of his peculiar history he quite deserves to be lionized. Five years ago he was a clerk in a bank on a meager salary, and one time some of the same devoted friends of these days thought it would be a good joke to pretend the bank had been robbed, and warn him that he was suspected. This a number did, only they called him up about midnight, so as to give the joke a more natural appearance. After telling him that two hours before burglars had stolen $50,000 in bank notes, they added that the police were now on the way to arrest him as a suspect.

It so happened that he had but two hours before been in the vicinity of the bank, and fearful of not being able to prove an alibi, he gathered his available belongings together and caught an early morning train for the north. Of course there was a big row in the vicinity of the young fellow's home and his funny friends had to leave town. Fortunately the young fellow was a bachelor, and he was not hunted up. Recently he wrote to an old acquaintance here from Canada, and the latter in replying to the long lost youth told him the truth about the bank jake. Then the young fellow came back, but not as he went away. He rode in a parlor car and swelled around in a hack. He had gone to Montreal and after the first shock had settled down to work and gradually by lucky speculation had graym rich.-Philadelphia Enquirer.

Grav's in the Crimea.

Some interesting results were obtained from the archæelogical explorations carried on in the Crimea during last summer. Professor Vespelovski found painted human bolco in two graves--six skeletons in one grave and one in another. The well known archæologist Professor Grempler, of Breslau, who was present last year at the congress of archæologists at Moscow, is of opinion that these graves belonged to the original inhabitants of the Crimea, the Cimmerians of Herodotus. It was a usage with thom to lay their dead on elevated spots so that the birds might consume the flesh. When quite bleached they painted the skeletons with some mineral pigment. Graves containing such painted skeletons have been found in Central Asia, but only in a few instances. Only three such graves had been previously found in the Crimea. Professor Grempler proposes to take the skeletons with him to Paris. and exhibit them at the congress of anthropologists to be held there during the autumn.-Boston Transcript.

Damages for a Delayed Message. The state supreme court of North Carolina has confirmed the action of the lower court which awarded to J. T. Young, of Craven county, N. C., $10,000 damages against the Western Union Telegraph company. It is represented that last year "Young's wife was taken very ill in Columbia, S. C. Mr. Young was at New Berne, N. C., and his wife telegraphed him that she was sick, and requested him to come to her at once. He did not get the message until six days later, and in the meantime Mrs. Young died and was buried, Young not knowing of either fact till all was over." -Philadelphia Ledger.

A Fascinating Painting,

A Russian artist, Nicolai, has set Berlin agog by exhibiting his painting of Christ before Pilate. It is said to be horribly fascinating, and the salon where it is displayed is crowded to suffocation. Critics agree that it is vastly inferior to Munkacsy's painting of the same title, so far as art is concerned, but they admit that it has power.-Kate Field's Washington.

As the neck dressings grow larger, richer, showier in texture and more versatile in form, the scarf pins, as if regulated by a temporizing hand, become more chastely simple in design. A plain old gold ball of the circumference of a five cent silver piece, studded with turquoise—a revived pattern—is very distingue.

Pipes are coming into fashion again, but only in offices and out of sight of the public. Possibly the time will come vhen a man will feel justified in producing a pipe in the smoking compartment of a car here, or in stalking along the street with one, after the fashion of the young clerks in England.

The French minister of war lately offered a prize for the swiftest bird in a flight from Perigueux to Paris, 310 miles. There were 2,746 entries, and the winner did the distance in seven hours and thirty-four minutes.

The greatest height in the atmosphere at which the sound of cannon has been heard was 20,000 feet, when Mr. Glaisher at that height over Birmingham heard the firing of the guns being proved there.

It is very seldom that Atlanta is visited by a better musical comedy company than that of Royce & Lansings's, says the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution of Jan. 3, 1890. Every actor and actress is possessed of outer door and omitting it over the inner wonderful musical talent. Although the opera house was not crowded a very good opers house was not crowded a very good audience was present. Ray L. Royce, in illuminates the inner transom, but the his comical specialties, shows himself a outer one is a dull blank, on which nothcomedian that will take with any audience. Mr. Fred Archer's playing on several instruments, assisted by Miss Lizzie Royce and Nellie Harris were well received. C. Horwitz, in the minor parts was acceptable, and all in all the play is a very good musical comedy.

An Historical Cutter.

Va. Chronicle: Dave Crosby has purchased the old sleigh of the Bonanza Company. This cutter has probably carried more wealth in its time than any runnered vehicle in the world. It conveyed in the Winter season all of the bullion in the palmy days from the mills of the company to the assay office and from thence to the place of shipment. It has been in active service as a bullion carrier for upwards of twenty years. The precious metal it has transported, if coined into money, would carpet with metallic currency a ten-acre lot, with a residue sufficient to purchase half a dozen seats in the United States Sen-

Miss Adelaide Moore.

"Romeo and Juliet" at the Globe is well worth seeing, says the London Gazette of July 12, 1890. Miss Adelaide Moore makes a pretty and willing "Juliet," a part, for once impersonated by a beautiful young woman, as Shakespeare intended. If we can judge by the appearance of the houses that nightly attend the Globe, Mr. Moore has struck oil-and the excellence of the entertainment prompts us to add, and so he ought.

An Esten Out Town.

On the occasion of the visit of President Harrison to Topeka, Kan., the hotels, restaurants and boarding houses were overrun by the great crowd. People clamored for food as the crowd clamors to get into a circus, and guards were placed at the dining room doors to keep back those who could not be at once accommodated. A gentleman who had tried every public place found at a late hour in the afternoon a restaurant in an out of the way place. He went in and asked if he could be fed. The proprietor said he had been eaten out.

"I'll give you a dollar for a glass of milk and piece of pie," said the stran-

"Ain't got no milk and ain't got no pie," replied the hungiy proprietor.
"What's that in that showcase—isn't out a pumpkin pie. The proprietor looked at it in a languid manner and answered: "That's all we have left for my family. If I sell that they won't get anything."

"I'll give you a dollar for the pie," said the hungry stranger, growing desperate.

The proprietor took out the pie and was in the act of handing it over when his jaw opened and about half the pie disappeared, the other half being handed over to the stranger, who refused it.

"Sell it for a quarter," said the pie man, realizing now that his chance was growing smaller. But the stranger refused the rugged moiety and went away sorrowful and as hungry as when he came.--Chicago Tribune.

Sleep for School Children.

need of children for sleep than of grown persons, and how necessary for their good it is to be able fully to satisfy this need, but how great it is generally at any particular age of the child is very hard to define exactly. The amount varies under different climatic conditions. In Sweden we consider a sleep of the Boy's Sodality, an institution of the St. | eleven or twelve hours necessary for the younger school children and of at least eight or nine hours for the older ones. Yet the investigations have shown that this requirement lacks much of being met in all the classes through the whole school. Boys in the higher classes get but little more than seven hours in bed, and as that is the average it is easy to perceive that many of them must content themselves with still less cleep.

It is also evident from the investigations that the sleeping time is diminished with the increase of the working hours from class to class, so that pupils of the same age enjoy less according as they are higher in their classes. It thus appears constantly that in schools of relatively longer hours of work the sleeping time of the pupils is correspondingly shorter. In short, the prolongation of the working hours takes place for the most part at the cost of the time for sleep.—Professor Axel Key in Popular Science.

Number Both Doors.

The golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," is violated in a petty fashion in New York which is intensely irritating. Many people when finishing their nouses neglect to put the numbers on properly, with the result that strangers in search of ϵ particular residence wander up and down the semi-lighted street cursing volubly. This absolute neglect of the law, however, is not as irritating as the practice of painting the name on the door. Until 10 c'clock the greater number of storm doors stand open.

ing can be read. You stare at what you know are figures, finding yourself utterly unable to distinguish them, and you are reduced to the ignominious course of ringing the bell and asking what the number is, which invariably produces on the face of the servant who appears an expression of a conviction not flattering to your sobriety. Good Christians there be who put the number on both transoms-may their homes be exalted and their examples imitated!—New York

The Swiss President.

Under the Swiss system the president of the confederacy has no more anthority than a member of the cabinet. The head of the government is a council elected by the parliament. This council selects a chairman from its members, who thus becomes president of the republic, and assumes a cabinet portfolio, usually that of fereign affairs. He is clothed with no powers of appointment to office. His co-members of the cabinet, even the judges of the supreme court, are all elected. He can serve but a single year; hence his time and talents, instead of being devoted to filling offices and seeking a re-election, are given to the service of his country. He is helped in his efforts for pure and economical government by a corps of trained statesmen.—S. H. M. Byers in Harper's.

The Fabian Concert and Readings. Mr. Edward Fabian, of New York City who is gifted with one of the most remark able voices in the country, has been engaged to give an entertainment at the M. E. Church on Wednesday evening, Dec. 17 while en route East from California. His appearance here will be looked forward to with great interest, as he probab'y has no equal in the country as a reader and a singer. He voice is said to be truly phenomenal and the papers of California and the East speak in enthusiastic terms of his great ability. His versatility is remarkable. It is hard to say whether he is at his best in his serious or his humorous readings. Not only is he an artist in reading but in singing as well. He passed many years in Italy for the cultivation of that pie?" asked the stranger, pointing his voice, and his superb singing and distinct enunciation add an unusually attractive element of variety to his program. The church should be and will be crowded to to bear Mr. Fabian.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparlila is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Beston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

MR. JOSEPH WHEELOCK

A Company of Acknowledged Celebrity, Under the Personal Direction of MR. WM. BREWSTER MOORE.

Mr. Bronson Howard, the greatest American dramatist of the day, says, "Miss Moore's voice has an indescribable charm."

The family relations of Miss Adelaide Moore are of a higher social standing than any other actress on the English or American stage, and yet she never mentions this fact in any of her numerous interviews.

Miss Adelaide Moore, although but twenty-five years of age, has played "Juliet" oftener, and is more closely identified with that character, than any other actress living. Her recent performances of that character for fifty consecutive nights ay the Globe Theatre, London, is the longest run of that play with one exception on record,

When Miss Moore visited Verona, she studied every nook and corner of the great Capulet mansion. The balcony, by the way, projects from the third story of the palace, Romeo must have spoken very loud to have been heard by the fair Julict,

One of the charming features of Miss Adelaide Moore's impersonation of "Juliet" is her sweet and gentle lisp, coupled with a slight English accent. Although a trifle puzzling to the ear in the first instance to grasp each and every word spoken one quickly grows accustomed to it. It adds to her voice a certain melodious softness that is intoxicatingly sweet to listen to, and in great harmony with the character of the lovely young daughter of the Capulets. That charm alone is worth a fortune. This, in addition to her graceful figure and lovely face, make her the most attractive and fascinating "Juliet" of the present day.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME A RARE

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee -The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway-Splendid Sewerage-Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the fract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50×140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Has no equal in Nevada or California for salubrity of elimate, wealth of soil, diversity of products and stability. Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Mead. ows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. A NEW. Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad only 154 miles from Saramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries.
